I have thoroughly enjoyed my student time at West Lothian College, especially my work experience through the Education into Enterprise Project. I was lucky to work with the National Association of Care Catering, to be involved with the Care Cooking Competition was a great experience, I loved seeing the process the chefs went through, taking the photographs and documenting the event was brilliant experience.

It was a bonus getting to meet Tony Singh who was the guest judge, then seeing him on the telly the next week on The Great British Menu was amazing. I am very proud that my photographs are now published in the NACC Catercare Magazine and on their website, just topped the entire experience, truly icing on the cake!
