British Food fortnight 2019 is held from 21 September 6 October

It is an annual event, started in 2002 in response to the Foot & Mouth Crisis

This is a national event – involving all the great and the good!

The NACC will be supporting us too this year and showcasing our events in their publications

Please send details of what you are planning to info@thenacc.co.uk

Who will promote on the Lovebritishfood and the NACC websites

Ideas to celebrate: - please email photographic evidence (with permissions slips) and short stories to Your home co-ordinator

Sporting events

- Wimbledon – Tennis and strawberries
- Ascot – champagne cocktails and silly hats
- Rugby – BBQ and beer
- Cricket – cream tea and cucumber sandwiches

High days and holidays

- Halloween
- Harvest festivals
- Saints days

Exploring food

- Cheese and wine tasting
- Pub night supper
- Cake making – regional recipes

Trips out

- Visit a local market
- Go to 'pick your own'
- Visit a national park or National Trust property

Celebrating in other fun ways!

- Fancy dress
- Quizzes on food and drink
- Reminiscence around traditional events – e.g. the pudding posters!
- Have children's tea party or teddy bears picnic with a local school

This list is not endless! Just a starter for 10 to inspire you!

Fortnight menu

- Homes to submit a two week menu – all things British, local which has been devised in conjunction with the residents
- Ensure there is some providence behind the dish, grown locally/regionally/traditional etc, can you name the person and their chosen dish?
- Devise a menu from the ones sent in which incorporate the providence and any signature dishes from the homes/residents/chefs choices
- All homes to follow the 'Great British Menu' during the two weeks
- Photos and short stories to be sent to your home co-ordinator to pass on to info@thenacc.co.uk

What you need to do

Choose a central co-ordinator for your home

Decide what events you want to do – remember to keep them British food orientated

Take photos of the events and write a short piece about each of them

Send your stories and pictures to the NACC - info@thenacc.co.uk who will collate and advertise on our website and send some to the 'LoveBritishFood' co-ordinator
